Join Us for Membership Meetings in Queens and Staten Island

By Rocco Del Mastro, President

In this critical electoral year, it is imperative that NED take a leading role in the re-election of our mayor as well as many other key races that will affect all of us in the years to come. I implore you to make every effort to attend both of our meetings—in Queens & Staten Island—and please don't forget to bring a friend. NED must continue to expand and grow in order for us to play a significant role in New York City's future. I look forward to seeing you at Pat's Restaurant and Neuhaus Realty (please see page two for details). This could very well be the year that NED is recognized as the undisputed independent political organization in our city. This can only happen if we continue to make inroads in all the cities boroughs and that is why it is so very important to make these two meetings a resounding success!

NED Endorses Renee Lobo for City Council

On May 3, 2005 NED announced its support of Renee Lobo for City Council in Queens. Mary Sansone, 88 year old organization founder said "Renee Lobo is a dynamic individual whose experience and activism in Queens make her a perfect fit for the City Council."

Renee Lobo, Democratic candidate for the 24th New York City Council District, is a community leader and activist for 15 years who has dedicated herself to focusing the attention of policy makers on community issues. Most notably are education, safety, communal harmony, affordable health care, housing, domestic violence and hate crimes.

Renee received a degree in Broadcast Journalism from the State University of New York, Old Westbury and also has an Honors Diploma from the London School of Journalism. She has complemented her academic qualifications with a wealth of hands-on experience developed during her long tenure as a working journalist. In addition to her community activism she has also gained recognition for almost two decades as a Broadcast Journalist, Investigative Reporter and Anchor.

She has been an effective conduit of community issues and policy makers by using her access to the media responsibly and bringing forth issues that impact people. Renee has produced groundbreaking programs on a variety of issues including domestic violence, human rights, drug and alcohol abuse, health care, immigration law, tort law, public safety, hate crime, education, family life, new technologies and many more. She is also a member of Community Board 6 and serves on the Land Use & Zoning Committee.

"When Renee Lobo came to meet with our Board of Directors, she impressed all of us with her intelligence and commitment to the community." confirmed President Rick Del Mastro. The New Era Democrats is confident that Renee Lobo will be an influential voice in the City Council for the 24th District.
